How to open Appleworks files in Yosemite

By Cory Bohon Apple

Don't toss those old docs just yet!

Got an Apple, Mac, or iOS tech question? We have the answer. While we're always glad to see the upgrades and new features that are included with each new version of Mac OS X, it's definitely a drag when the new operating system prevents you from opening older apps or documents. In response to a reader question, we'll take a look at how to deal with some of those incompatibilities — specifically, how to open Appleworks documents in Yosemite.

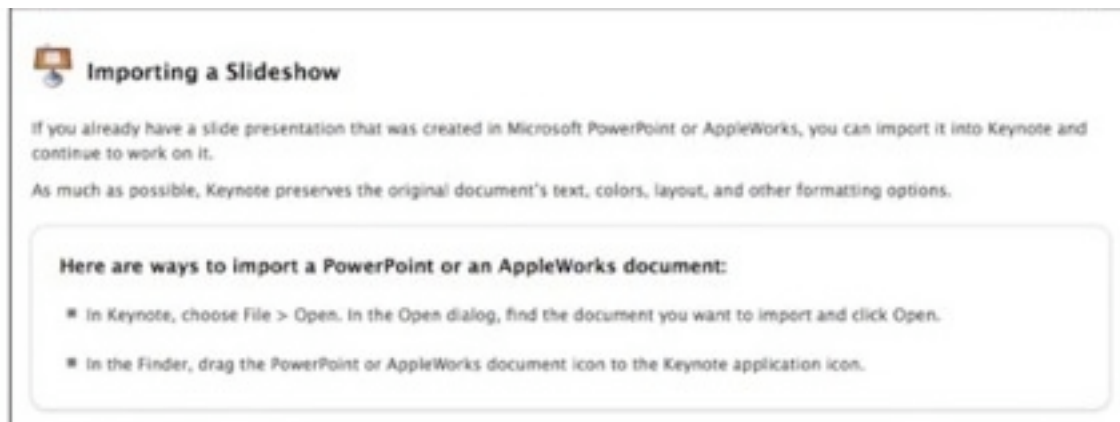

Question

I downloaded and installed OS X 10.10 Yosemite. After the installation a dialog appeared saying it can't run Appleworks 6. What am I to do with the several thousand Appleworks 6 documents that are important to me? Is there any way to make them work?

Answer

Appleworks 6 is a rather old piece of software, with the last updates coming out nearly 11 years ago (in January 2004). Apple discontinued support for the software in 2007, around the time that Leopard was released to the public. While you have been able to use the software for a few years afterwards thanks to Rosetta PowerPC (PPC) software support on modern Intel Macs, Apple finally stopped supporting PPC in OS X Lion.

If you still have documents lying around in this format, however, and wish to upgrade them to work with modern apps (say, Pages, Word, or TextEdit), you can do this with the available iWork apps (Pages, Numbers, and Keynote).

For the most part, opening old Appleworks documents is as simple as dragging them to Apple's current applications.

For example, if you have an AppleWork 6 word processing document, then you can drag and drop it on the Pages icon in the Dock to have it open; if you have an AppleWork 6 spreadsheet or presentation file, then you can also drag and drop them on top of Numbers and Keynote, respectively. You might end up with some formatting issues, but in general this should allow you to access your old documents.

My List of helpful and fun applications that are mostly free.

computer

Application	What it does	Why I like it
Jumpcut	extends the paste memory.	Easy, backup URL and text.
Evernote	Application, save text and pictures from WEB, text, and PDF
FlipBoard	a News Magazine collector (aggregator).
Pulse	only on my newer (Lion) computer

iPad/iPod

Evernote	Application works on iPad and computer	Note taking, dictation
Pages	word processor (free Apple App with new devices)	Has a better keyboard frequently than "Notes" on the iPad. I write this newsletter using Pages
FlipBoard	a News Magazine collector (aggregator). (Flips on iPad, Scrolls on Computer)
Pulse	a News Magazine collector (aggregator). A bit faster. Remembers headings, so is more usable when you do not have wi-fi.

Games on the iPad/iPod (there are lots, these are a few of my current favorites)

Quetzalcoatl	a slider puzzle
GOLFINITY	minature golf huge variety
Flow Free	a color link puzzle
Block-Off	a connect 3 type puzzle

Music

Songza music according to your mood. (works on all devices including the computer)

While using my iPad to view photos of an event I attended (online newspaper photo galleries)I found the experience slow and after 6 or 7 photos crashing.... Went to my MacBook Pro and found it worked great. 10 times faster and no crashes! Both using the Chrome browser and <http://galleries.heraldtribune.com/?id=369822#/0> both were wireless from the same router and website...

MY iPad mini is only 1 year old (iOS 7.0) and my MacBook is a 2008 with OSX 10.7.5

EAMUG board met at Stefanos with Seth T. Eberhardt (President & Programs) Carolyn Rosenfeld (Secretary), Carl Schwartz (Newsletter and SIG), David Pascal (Library and Webmaster), Lou Besson (Treasurer), Christina Anglin, and Georgia Britton. Meeting began at 11:55, suspended at 12:05 and resumed at 12:32.

Lou Bessen gave the treasurer's report. We have 30 paid individual members, 3 family membership 6 people, honorary 14 members, for a total of 36 paid members and a total membership of 50 people. There were 27 people were present at the last meeting.

Board minutes were concise and on time and accepted.

Newsletter was great and Carl welcomed the articles that were sent to him.

EAMUG Website was very good.

PROGRAM COMMENTS

It was the first program on iPads and we were pleased that the new equipment worked perfectly.

Facebook Her Way (on iPad): Elaine Schwartz presentation was very interesting and well received.

Evernote My Way (on iPad): by Carl Schwartz was helpful.

New Business: We are planning programs, Board meetings and SIGs for June and the board voted to close for the months of July and August and we will resume meeting in September. We discussed speaking to the membership in regards to having a meeting on devices (iPhones, iPads and iPods) every few months. The board members appreciates everyones efforts to keep our club active. The SIGs are well attended and everyone seems to learn from each other at these meetings.
